The Foxworth Theory Network streams live interview with Chef Carlos Brown

By Audrey J. Bernard

For decades, Harlem based businesswoman Eugenia Foxworth has excelled in bringing her fabulous flair for fashion, art, and quality real estate properties to her exclusive clientele in New York and many parts of the world, along with her leadership as the elected president of the International Real Estate Federation for the USA.

Last year, the foxy entrepreneur added podcast personality to the Foxworth empire simply called "The Foxworth Theory Network" which features a host of lifestyle issues and more on her twice weekly podcast series, "The Foxworth Theory" streamed live on its own network.

On Tuesday, January 25, and Thursday, January 27, at 9 pm ET, Foxworth will engage in a two-part interview with award winning Chef Carlos Brown whose celebrity clientele include Jim Carrey, Whoopi Goldberg, and Barack & Michelle Obama. When he's not feeding the well-known and famous, Chef Brown is paying it forward thanks to his culinary school for youth, which teaches our young folks to become future chefs.

When asked what her goal is for the eponymous show, Foxworth explains: "My goal for 'The Foxworth Theory' is to bring together all these aspects that I've been a part of — art, fashion, culture, business, dance, entertainment — with the people who create the art, design the fashions, make the music, choreograph the dance and help define the culture."

This bon vivant has travelled all over the world and brings a dowry filled with love and wonderful experiences that she's all too eager to share with her audiences and guests. "All these things I eat, drink and feel every day. We'll invite legends to be a part of the show along with folks from the real estate world. What I want the show to do is help motivate and inspire others to pursue their goals and dreams. While we will indeed entertain our listeners and viewers, what I want the podcast to do is to help inspire and motivate our young people to achieve their goals. Our youth have always been a group I want to work with and tell them that they can achieve whatever it is they set their minds to doing. Don't ever let anyone tell them their dreams cannot come true," Foxworth concluded.
